ISO online collections
Your instant access to ISO International Standards

Management standards
The essential collection

Access all standards in just one click www.iso.org/iso/obp-essential

ISO’s management system standards are known worldwide for their many benefits, including efficient use of resources, improved risk management and increased customer satisfaction. This new collection contains all of ISO’s best-known management system standards, including quality, environment, risk management, business continuity, energy management, information security, social responsibility and product management.

This collection is available on ISO’s Online Browsing Platform (OBP)
www.iso.org/obp

The OBP is a one-stop shop where you will find the entire collection of ISO International Standards as well as related material such as international symbols, terms and definitions, and country codes.

Subscribe now

With a yearly subscription to this online collection, you are guaranteed:

- Your personal library where you will find your selected portfolio of standards
- Easy navigation through embedded links to other documents
- Multiple language interface that lets you reach identical sections of a document in other language versions
- Access from any device as long as you have an Internet connection

What industry will use the collection?
• All industries, services and regulators

Which sectors are covered?
• All sectors and services

How you can benefit
• It gives access to all the standards you need for certification to ISO 9001 (quality management), ISO 14001 (environmental management), ISO 50001 (energy management) and ISO/IEC 27001 (information security management)
• It ensures efficient use of resources, improved risk management and increased customer satisfaction as services and products consistently deliver what they promise
• It provides tools for identifying and managing your environmental impact, and improving your energy efficiency

Management standards
The essential collection

access all collections on:
www.iso.org/obp
+41 22 749 08 88
customerservice
@iso.org